SUBJECT: EXECUTIVE FORCE REVIEW COMMITTEE DISPOSITION:
DEPUTY SCOTT SORROW #[redacted]
DEPUTY [redacted] #[redacted]
PALMDALE STATION

On May 10, 2009, as Deputy Scott Sorrow saw Subject [redacted] point an apparent handgun at him, Deputy Sorrow shot Subject [redacted]

At about 1952 hours, Deputy Sorrow, 263E/PM, with his partner, Deputy [redacted] shot a 15-year-old male juvenile, Subject [redacted] who had pointed a handgun in the direction of their patrol vehicle at 20th Street East at Avenue Q-11, in Palmdale. Deputy personnel were en route to a call for service unrelated to the incident. Deputy Sorrow was the passenger of the marked Sheriff's patrol unit, while his partner, Deputy [redacted] was the driver.

Deputies [redacted] and Sorrow were driving northbound in their patrol car on 20th Street East at Avenue Q-11, in Palmdale, when Deputy [redacted] attention was drawn to a male juvenile riding a bicycle southbound on the west sidewalk of 20th Street East. The male was holding a black semiautomatic pistol in his left hand as he pointed it at vehicular traffic on 20th Street East.

As Deputy [redacted] communicated his observation to Deputy Sorrow, they drove by the male subject, who looked in their direction and began to accelerate south on 20th Street East. Deputy [redacted] made a U-turn to contact the male subject and came within several feet behind him, alongside the curb. Both deputies ordered the male subject to stop the bicycle and drop the gun several times, without compliance. The subject stopped his bicycle suddenly and turned toward the deputies, with the pistol in his left hand, pointing it at them.

Fearing they were about to be shot, Deputy Sorrow fired one round from his Department-issued 9mm Beretta handgun, striking the subject in the upper torso. The subject collapsed and was subsequently airlifted to Holy Cross Medical Hospital in San Fernando Valley where he recovered from a gunshot wound to the left side flank.

A black handgun with brown plastic grips was recovered at the scene, which was determined to be a replica firearm. One expended 9mm shell casing was retrieved from the sidewalk.

During the ensuing investigation, it was determined that the subject was developmentally disabled and had been pointing the realistic-looking replica at passing motorists prior to the deputies' arrival.

On April 22, 2010, the Executive Force Review Committee convened and conducted a review regarding the facts of this case. The applicable policies that were evaluated by the committee were: MPP §§ 3-01/025.00, Use of Force; 3-01/025.30, Use of Firearms and Deadly Force; 3-01/025.10, Unreasonable Force; and 3-01/050.10, Performance to Standards.

Concerning:

MPP § 3-01/025.00, Use of Force, MPP § 3-01/025.30, Use of Firearms and Deadly Force, and MPP § 3-01/025.10, Unreasonable Force, the Committee determined that the force used by Deputy Scott Sorrow #[redacted] was reasonable and necessary and in compliance with Department policy.

MPP § 3-01/025.00, Use of Force, MPP § 3-01/025.30, Use of Firearms and Deadly Force, and MPP § 3-01/025.10, Unreasonable Force, the Committee determined that the force used by Deputy [redacted] #[redacted] was reasonable and necessary and in compliance with Department policy.

MPP § 3-01/050.10, Performance to Standards, the Committee determined that the tactics employed by all personnel in this incident were within Department Policy.

The Committee directed the unit commander to send Deputies Scott Sorrow #[redacted] and [redacted] #[redacted] to eight hours of Tactics and Survival Training Unit's Tactics I course. The APIS Roster of the training attended shall be returned with the Unit Commander Response form.

LASD File # 009-08192-2610-152

Dear Captain Smith:

The Justice System Integrity Division of the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office has completed its review of the May 10, 2009, non-fatal shooting of [redacted] by Los Angeles County Sheriff's Deputy Scott Sorrow. It is our conclusion that Deputy Sorrow acted in lawful self defense and defense of others.

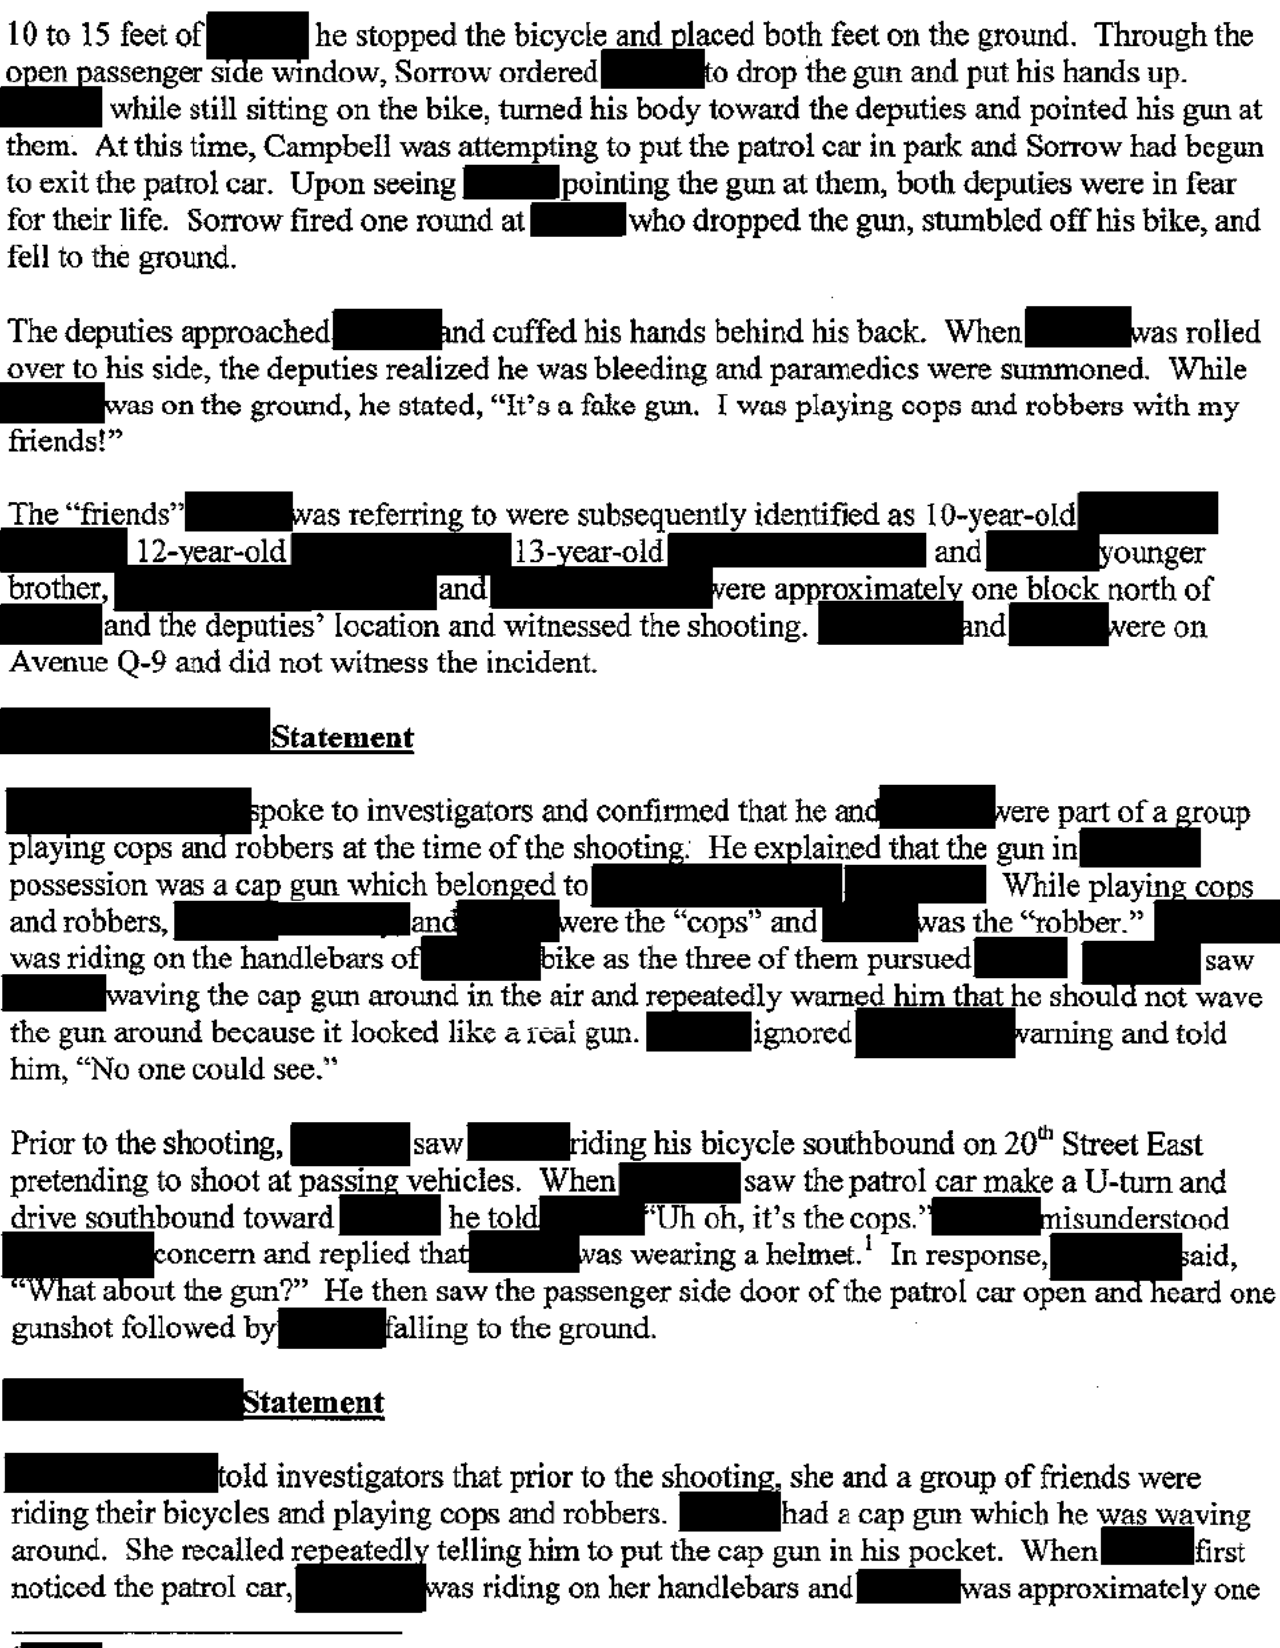

The following analysis is based on reports prepared by the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department (LASD), submitted to this office by members of the LASD Homicide Bureau, on June 25, 2009. The District Attorney's Command Center was notified of the shooting on May 10, 2009, at approximately 9:17 p.m. The District Attorney Response Team, comprised of Deputy District Attorney Christina Buckley and District Attorney Senior Investigator [redacted] responded and was given a briefing and walk-through of the scene. Deputy Sorrow provided a voluntary statement which was considered as part of this analysis.

FACTUAL ANALYSIS

On May 10, 2009, at approximately 7:53 p.m., Deputies Andrew Campbell (driver) and Scott Sorrow (passenger) were traveling northbound on 20th Street East toward Avenue Q-9 in the City of Palmdale when Campbell noticed a male, subsequently identified as [redacted] riding a bicycle southbound on the west sidewalk. In [redacted] left hand, Campbell saw what appeared to be a black semiautomatic handgun. Campbell advised Sorrow of his observation and made a U-turn. Sorrow turned his attention to [redacted] and saw him raise the handgun as he yelled at someone.

Deputies Campbell and Sorrow unholstered their weapons. When the patrol car came within 30 to 40 feet of [redacted] both deputies ordered him to drop the gun. When the patrol car was within 10 to 15 feet of [redacted] he stopped the bicycle and placed both feet on the ground. Through the open passenger side window, Sorrow ordered [redacted] to drop the gun and put his hands up. [redacted] while still sitting on the bike, turned his body toward the deputies and pointed his gun at them. At this time, Campbell was attempting to put the patrol car in park and Sorrow had begun to exit the patrol car. Upon seeing [redacted] pointing the gun at them, both deputies were in fear for their life. Sorrow fired one round at [redacted] who dropped the gun, stumbled off his bike, and fell to the ground.

The deputies approached [redacted] and cuffed his hands behind his back. When [redacted] was rolled over to his side, the deputies realized he was bleeding and paramedics were summoned. While [redacted] was on the ground, he stated, "It's a fake gun. I was playing cops and robbers with my friends!"

The "friends" [redacted] was referring to were subsequently identified as 10-year-old [redacted] 12-year-old [redacted] 13-year-old [redacted] and [redacted] younger brother, [redacted] and [redacted] were approximately one block north of [redacted] and the deputies' location and witnessed the shooting. [redacted] and [redacted] were on Avenue Q-9 and did not witness the incident.

[redacted] Statement

[redacted] spoke to investigators and confirmed that he and [redacted] were part of a group playing cops and robbers at the time of the shooting. He explained that the gun in [redacted] possession was a cap gun which belonged to [redacted] While playing cops and robbers, [redacted] and [redacted] were the "cops" and [redacted] was the "robber." [redacted] was riding on the handlebars of [redacted] bike as the three of them pursued [redacted] saw [redacted] waving the cap gun around in the air and repeatedly warned him that he should not wave the gun around because it looked like a real gun. [redacted] ignored [redacted] warning and told him, "No one could see."

Prior to the shooting, [redacted] saw [redacted] riding his bicycle southbound on 20th Street East pretending to shoot at passing vehicles. When [redacted] saw the patrol car make a U-turn and drive southbound toward [redacted] he told [redacted] "Uh oh, it's the cops." [redacted] misunderstood [redacted] concern and replied that [redacted] was wearing a helmet.[1] In response, [redacted] said, "What about the gun?" He then saw the passenger side door of the patrol car open and heard one gunshot followed by [redacted] falling to the ground.

[redacted] Statement

[redacted] told investigators that prior to the shooting, she and a group of friends were riding their bicycles and playing cops and robbers. [redacted] had a cap gun which he was waving around. She recalled repeatedly telling him to put the cap gun in his pocket. When [redacted] first noticed the patrol car, [redacted] was riding on her handlebars and [redacted] was approximately one block ahead of them on his bicycle. [redacted] became concerned because she was not wearing a helmet and told [redacted] to get off the handlebars. She saw the patrol car stop near [redacted] who was holding the cap gun in his left hand. The deputies got out of their car and [redacted] either fell off or dropped his bicycle as he raised his hands. [redacted] heard the deputies yelling at [redacted] followed by one gunshot. At one point [redacted] said [redacted] was holding the cap gun when he got off his bike. She later indicated she could not recall whether [redacted] was holding the cap gun.

[redacted] described the cap gun as black with a brown handle. She stated that the cap gun's orange safety tip had previously broken off causing the cap gun to look like a real gun.

[redacted] was outside her residence on [redacted] when she saw [redacted] riding a bicycle on the [redacted] side of 20th Street East. She saw a black handgun in his hand which he was shooting making little popping sounds. [redacted] thought the weapon was a small caliber handgun. There were several children playing outside and [redacted] feared one of them might be shot. As she considered what action to take, she saw a patrol car pull up next to [redacted] who was riding on the sidewalk. The deputies told [redacted] to stop, but he failed to comply. She then heard a single gunshot. She saw that both deputies had their guns out and she did not know which deputy fired the shot. [redacted] stated everything happened very quickly and she could not recall whether [redacted] was pointing his gun at the deputies or if he was holding it in his hand as he held onto the handlebars. She next saw [redacted] gun on the ground south of where he was being detained.

[redacted]

[redacted] was driving northbound on 20th Street East when he saw [redacted] riding a bicycle on the west side of the street. [redacted] made eye contact with [redacted] and was shocked when [redacted] pointed a gun at him and mouthed the words, "Boom, Boom, Boom." [redacted] immediately called 911 and reported the incident. Initially, [redacted] thought it was a BB gun, but because there was no orange tip on the gun he was unsure.[2]

[redacted]

[redacted] a 15-year-old special education student at [redacted] was contacted by investigators while he was at the hospital. His [redacted] and legal guardian, [redacted] was present and allowed investigators to speak to [redacted] after she told them her [redacted] had been shot for no apparent reason.[3] [redacted] stated he was riding his bicycle playing cops and robbers with friends when the deputies arrived and ordered him to "drop the gun and get against the wall." [redacted] said he got off his bicycle, dropped the gun, and began to walk toward the wall. As he was heading to the wall, the deputy shot him. [redacted] maintained he was not holding the gun when the shooting occurred. He also denied pointing the gun at passing motorists and claimed he only pointed his gun at his friends while playing cops and robbers.

[2] At the time of the shooting, Deputies Campbell and Sorrow were unaware of [redacted] 911 call.
[3] [redacted] also informed investigators that she had already contacted an attorney.

Medical Treatment

[redacted] was treated by paramedics at the scene. He was transported by helicopter to Providence Holy Cross Hospital where he was treated by Doctor Bradley Roth. On May 29, 2009, LASD Homicide Detective Dawn Retzlaff spoke to Dr. Roth who stated he surgically removed one projectile from [redacted] back. Dr. Roth stated the projectile entered [redacted] left side in the flank area and there was no significant trauma. [redacted] did not require any prescriptions for pain or infection and was doing well.

Additional Evidence

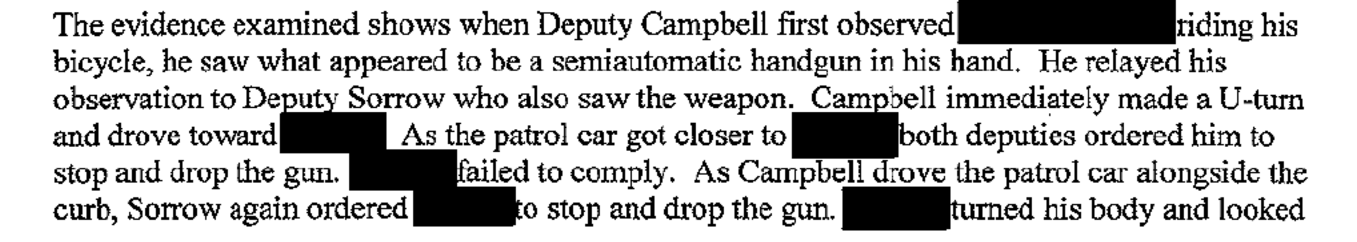

The replica handgun possessed by [redacted] was examined by LASD Sergeant William Marsh and Firearms Examiner M. Munoz. The replica was constructed of plastic and had the appearance of a small to medium framed semiautomatic pistol. The grip portion was painted brown to resemble wood grips and the rest of the replica was painted black.

CONCLUSION

According to the law in California, the use of deadly force in self-defense or in the defense of others is justifiable if the person claiming the right to use self-defense actually and reasonably believed (1) that he or she, or the person who he or she was defending was in imminent danger of death or great bodily injury, and (2) that it was necessary under the circumstances to use deadly force to avoid such imminent death or great bodily injury.

The "reasonableness" of a particular use of force must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight. The calculus of reasonableness must embody allowance for the fact that police are often forced to make split-second judgments -- in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving -- about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation. Graham v. Conner, (1989) 490 U.S. 386, 396-397.

If one is confronted by the appearance of danger which one believes, and a reasonable person in the same position would believe, would result in death or great bodily injury, one may act upon those circumstances. Actual danger is not necessary to justify the use of deadly force in self-defense. The right of self-defense is the same whether the danger is real or merely apparent. People v. Toledo, (1948) 85 C.A. 2d 577.

The evidence examined shows when Deputy Campbell first observed [redacted] riding his bicycle, he saw what appeared to be a semiautomatic handgun in his hand. He relayed his observation to Deputy Sorrow who also saw the weapon. Campbell immediately made a U-turn and drove toward [redacted] As the patrol car got closer to [redacted] both deputies ordered him to stop and drop the gun. [redacted] failed to comply. As Campbell drove the patrol car alongside the curb, Sorrow again ordered [redacted] to stop and drop the gun. [redacted] turned his body and looked back at the deputies. However, instead of dropping the weapon, he pointed what appeared to be a semiautomatic weapon in their direction. Deputy Sorrow feared for his life as well as the life of his partner and was forced to make a split second decision. He fired one round which struck [redacted] in the left side. Deputy Campbell also was in fear for his life and told investigators he would have fired his weapon but Sorrow was in the line of fire.

We find that Deputy Sorrow acted in lawful self-defense and defense of others. Therefore, we are closing our file and will take no further action in this matter.

Very truly yours,

STEVE COOLEY
District Attorney

SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT

HIT SHOOTING EVALUATION
(On Duty)

UNIT: Palmdale Sheriff's Station
DATE: May 10, 200, Sunday
TIME: 1952 hours
LOCATION: 20th Street East and Avenue Q-11, Palmdale, CA
URN#: 009-08192-2610-152
IAB#: SH2243356

NATURE OF INCIDENT: On May 10, 2009, at about 1952 hours, Palmdale Sheriff's Deputy Scott Sorrow, Employee # [redacted] assigned to 263E/PM. with his partner, Andrew Campbell, Employee # [redacted] shot Subject [redacted] (MJ/15), who pointed a handgun in the direction of their patrol vehicle at 20th Street East/Avenue Q-11, Palmdale. Deputy personnel were enroute to a call for service unrelated to the incident. Deputy Sorrow was the bookman/passenger of the marked Sheriff's patrol unit, while his partner, Deputy Andrew Campbell, Employee # [redacted] was the driver.

The following is a summary of the events:
Deputies Campbell and Sorrow were driving in their Sheriff's marked patrol vehicle north on 20th Street East at Avenue Q-11 in Palmdale when Deputy Campbell's attention was drawn to a male juvenile riding a bicycle southbound on the west sidewalk of 20th Street East. The male was holding a black semiautomatic pistol in his left-hand as he pointed it at vehicular traffic on 20th Street East.

As Deputy Campbell communicated his observation to Deputy Sorrow, they drove by the male subject, who looked in their direction and began to accelerate south on 20th Street East. Deputy Campbell made a U-turn in order to contact the male subject and closed to within several feet behind him alongside the curb. Both deputies ordered the male subject to stop the bicycle and drop the gun several times without compliance. The subject suddenly stopped his bicycle and turned toward the deputies with the pistol in his left-hand pointing it at them.

Fearing they were about to be shot, Deputy Sorrow fired one round from his Department-issued 9mm Beretta handgun, striking the subject in the upper torso. The subject collapsed and was subsequently airlifted to Holy Cross Medical Hospital in San Fernando Valley where he recovered from a gun shot wound to the left side flank.

A black handgun with brown plastic grips was recovered at the scene, which was determined to be a replica firearm. One expended 9mm shell casing was retrieved from the sidewalk.

During the ensuing investigation, it was determined the subject was developmentally disabled and had been pointing the realistic looking replica at passing motorists prior to the deputies' arrival.

Internal Affairs Bureau was notified at 2130 hours, whereby Lieutenant Mike Grimaldi, along with Sergeant's Frank Quichocho and Teri Roberts responded to the command post to conduct a Shooting Review of the incident.

On August 11, 2009, Deputy District Attorney Christina Fleming-Buckley (JSID) issued a Letter of Opinion concerning the deputy-involved shooting. The District Attorney's conclusion stated the following:

> "According to the law in California, the use of deadly force in self-defense or in the defense of others is justifiable if the person claiming the right to use self-defense actually and reasonably believed (1) that he or she, or the person who he or she was defending was in imminent danger of death or great bodily injury, and (2) that it was necessary under the circumstances to use deadly force to avoid such imminent death or great bodily injury.
> The "reasonableness" of a particular use of force must be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene, rather than with the 20/20 vision of hindsight. The calculus of reasonableness must embody allowance for the fact that police are often forced to make split-second judgments in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving about the amount of force that is necessary in a particular situation. Graham v. Conner, (1989) 490 U.S. 386, 396-397.
> If one is confronted by the appearance of danger which one believes, and a reasonable person in the same position would believe, would result in death or great bodily injury,

one may act upon those circumstances. Actual danger is not necessary to justify the use of deadly force in self-defense. The right of self-defense is the same whether the danger is real or merely apparent. People v. Toledo, (1948) 85 C.A. 2d 577.

The evidence examined shows when Deputy Campbell first observed [redacted] riding his bicycle, he saw what appeared to be a semiautomatic handgun in his hand. He relayed the observation to Deputy Sorrow who also saw the weapon. Campbell immediately made a U-turn and drove toward [redacted] As the patrol car got closer to [redacted] both deputies ordered him to stop and drop the gun. [redacted] failed to comply. As Campbell drove the patrol car alongside the curb, Sorrow again ordered [redacted] to stop and drop the gun. [redacted] turned his body and looked backed at the deputies. However, instead of dropping the weapon, he pointed what appeared to be a semiautomatic weapon in their direction. Deputy Sorrow feared for his life as well as the life of his partner and was forced to make a split second decision. He fired one round which struck [redacted] in the left side. Deputy Campbell was also in fear for his life and told investigators he would fired his weapon but Sorrow was in the line of fire.

We find that Deputy Sorrow acted in lawful self-defense and defense of others. Therefore, we are closing our file and will no further action in this matter.

INVOLVED EMPLOYEE STATEMENTS:

Deputy Scott Sorrow, Employee #[redacted] was interviewed by Internal Affairs Sergeant Frank Quichocho on December 7, 2009, at approximately 1928 hours. Deputy Sorrow voluntarily agreed to the interview without a representative present. The interview was tape recorded and the following is a summary.

Deputy Sorrow said while driving south on 20th Street East, at Palmdale Blvd, he was advised by his partner, Deputy Campbell, who was the driver of the patrol car, that he saw a male on a bicycle with a gun. They made two U-turns allowing them to come up behind and alongside the bicyclist, who was riding south on the west sidewalk of 20th Street East. Deputy Sorrow stated he saw the male holding a firearm up in the air with either his left or right hand, yelling at people who were in their residential yards west of the sidewalk. As they pulled up closer to the male, Deputy Sorrow said he yelled at him from the open patrol car window to stop and drop the gun; however, the male continued to ride his bicycle ignoring his commands. Further commands and orders were given to the male by both deputies, as Deputy Sorrow pointed his department-issued weapon at him. The male immediately stopped the bicycle at a 45-degree angle, in a southeasterly position, and looked back in the direction of the patrol car. As the male turned toward his left side, he pointed the firearm at Deputy Sorrow and his partner, Deputy Campbell. Deputy Sorrow said he then fired one round at the male as he exited the patrol car, adding he could not recall if the gun fell out of the male's hand or if the force of the gunshot knocked it out of his hand.

While standing next to the male, Deputy Sorrow said he heard him moaning and yelling about the weapon being a fake gun and that he was playing "cops and robbers." After initiating emergent radio traffic concerning an officer-involved shooting, he handcuffed the male.

Deputy Sorrow said it was later determined that the firearm the male was holding was a replica firearm.

During follow-up questioning, Deputy Sorrow stated the contact with the male on the bicycle was unrelated to a call for service they were responding to regarding a trespassing call (T[redacted] 602N call).

Deputy Sorrow said it was when they were driving south on 20th Street East the second time is when he noticed the male holding a gun in his hand by the handle bars of the bicycle. He added the male appeared to be shooting on the move as if firing the gun, brandishing it, and waving it at people who were in their residential yards west of the sidewalk. He added that he could not recall with one 100% clarity which hand held the gun.

During the approach toward the bicyclist, Deputy Sorrow stated there was no communication between him and Deputy Campbell because they were both giving commands to the male to stop, show his hands, and drop the gun. He added he and his partner were on the same page and there was no time for tactical communication due to the immediate threat.

Deputy Sorrow estimated the time from Deputy Campbell's first observation of the male on the bicycle to the point when the male had been shot was seconds. He said the entire incident happened quick and fast. Deputy Sorrow stated his concern at the time the male abruptly stopped his bicycle was that they were going to be shot.

Quichocho: At some point in time the suspect came to an abrupt stop?
Sorrow: Correct.
Quichocho: And then what concerns did you have at that point with him doing that with the gun in his hand?
Sorrow: Us getting shot. Him shooting us.
Quichocho: And at some point in time he turned around or faced you?
Sorrow: Right.
Quichocho: Did he...what...describe that more in detail. You were the Book Man, you were the passenger, he was closest to you from the sidewalk.
Sorrow: Correct. Like I said, it was about 10, 15 feet away. As I'm ordering him to stop, he stops the bike. The bike is pointed...it's not parallel with that wall right there. It's...
Quichocho: Right.
Sorrow: ...at a 45- degree angle, I guess that'd be pointing southeast. He turns, he looks at us, he turns to his left and the...I see the barrel of the, of what appears to be a semi, a dark semi-automatic firearm pistol in his hand pointed right at us. I fired. Fired one round. He didn't say anything to us. He didn't, you know, you know, all I can recall is saying, "Hey, drop the gun, let me see your hands." That was it.
Quichocho: When you fired your...how many rounds did you fire?
Sorrow: One.
Quichocho: Did it strike the suspect? Obviously....
Sorrow: Yes.
Quichocho: You know it hit him somewhere.
Sorrow: Correct, I didn't know at the time that I hit him. Well, at first I didn't know I hit him 'til I saw a pool of blood coming out of him when he was laying on the back.

After the male was shot, Deputy Sorrow said he recalled standing on the sidewalk next to the male, who was laying on the sidewalk. He said when the male fell off the bicycle, he saw the gun fly out of his hand which landed a few feet south of the suspect. After handcuffing the male, he saw him bleeding from the back.

Deputy Sorrow said Deputy Campbell was also putting out radio traffic after the shooting occurred, in addition to coordinating units and securing the crime scene.

IAB Note: Refer to Exhibit B, for a copy of the crime sketch diagram drawn by Scientific Services Bureau.

Deputy Sorrow said the lighting conditions were daylight, more like twilight in that there was enough light to distinguish the male was holding a handgun. He described the handgun as a semiautomatic pistol with a dark looking grip and barrel.

During the encounter, Deputy Sorrow said he believed the male may have committed a crime based on his observations of the male holding a gun, riding away on a bicycle, appearing to evade them, brandishing a firearm, coupled with a 7 Eleven Store at the corner of Palmdale Blvd/20th Street East being robbed several times in the past, in addition to a 417 incident (man with a gun) containment of the area months prior to the incident.

The backdrop of the incident was a six-foot block retaining wall.

Deputy Sorrow believed the male heard and understood their commands to stop and drop the gun due to the male's demeanor when he looked back at them while riding his bicycle away and then abruptly stopping in the sidewalk. He added there was no reason for the male not to hear their commands since the windows of the patrol car were down, there was no heavy machinery in the area to drown out their voices, no loud music, no pedestrian traffic and no vehicular traffic, as well as no siren.

Deputy Sorrow said he could not recall if he shot the male from a seated position inside the patrol car or if he was already on the way out. He said the incident happened all at once, very quickly. He stated he was about 10 to 15 feet away from the male when the shot was fired.

After the shooting, Deputy Sorrow said he made a public safety comment to the initial arriving supervisor. He was then taken back to the station and sequestered.

The use of less-lethal weapons was not an option according to Deputy Sorrow because there was no time for it. He said their tactics regarding command and control were good as they did not stay seated in their patrol car during the deadly encounter, but exited as fast as they could utilizing the door as cover. He stated the incident happened so fast that he did not have time to put out emergent radio traffic until after the shooting was over.

Deputy Sorrow said he had point of aim, sight alignment and target acquisition during the entire encounter.

Deputy Sorrow stated the shooting was not an accidental discharge of his weapon.

IAB Note: Refer to a copy of Deputy Sorrow's transcribed interview for further detail.

DEPARTMENT WITNESS STATEMENTS:

Deputy Andrew Campbell, Employee #[redacted] was interviewed by Internal Affairs Sergeant Frank Quichocho on December 7, 2009, at approximately 1840 hours. Deputy Campbell voluntarily agreed to the interview without a representative present. The interview was tape recorded and the following is a summary of the interview.

Deputy Campbell said he was assigned to a two-person patrol unit in Palmdale, as the driver, while his partner, Deputy Sorrow, was the passenger/bookman. He said they were driving north on 20th Street East enroute to a trespassing call at 20th Street East/Q-9, when he saw a male bicyclist headed south on the west sidewalk of 20th Street East at Palmdale Blvd., holding what appeared to be a black semiautomatic handgun in his left hand.

As Deputy Campbell continued driving north on 20th Street East, he and the male bicyclist made eye contact with each other. Deputy Campbell said he informed his partner of his observations, and made a quick U-turn approaching the male bicyclist from behind, who was headed south on the west sidewalk of 20th Street East. At this time, Deputy Campbell stated his partner confirmed that he recognized the male bicyclist was holding a gun in his hand.

During their approach, Deputy Campbell said both he and his partner drew their duty weapons from their holsters, as the male bicyclist looked over his shoulder toward them and continued riding south on the west sidewalk. Deputy Campbell stated prior to their approach, the male bicyclist was sitting on the seat; however, as they drew closer, the male stood up on the pedals and rode faster away from them. The male bicyclist was holding the handgun in his left hand, as well as gripping the handle bars of the bicycle at the same time.

Deputy Campbell said when they pulled up alongside the curb, just north of and behind the male bicyclist, which was about 10 feet away, they opened their patrol car doors and ordered the suspect to drop the gun and place his hands where it can be seen. Deputy Campbell stated the male abruptly slammed his bicycle to a complete stop causing him to also stop in order to avoid passing him.

Once the male stopped the bicycle, Deputy Campbell said he and Deputy Sorrow were both attempting to exit the patrol car. He noticed the male was still seated on his bicycle, while turning his body completely toward the right with the handgun still in his left hand pointing at them. At this point, Deputy Campbell stated he heard a gunshot as he exited the patrol car. He saw the male fall down to the ground as the gun comes out of his hand.

Deputy Campbell stated he and Deputy Sorrow made sure they were okay, then proceeded at gun point to contact the male. Once the male was handcuffed, they advised dispatch of an officer-involved shooting and requested medical assistance. Deputy Campbell said they monitored the male's medical condition pending the arrival of paramedics and assisting patrol units.

After the male was treated by paramedics and transported to the hospital, Deputy Campbell said they were taken to Palmdale Sheriff's Station separately and sequestered until Homicide investigators arrived.

During follow-up questioning, Deputy Campbell stated he initially saw the male holding the handgun with his left-hand pointing down at his side. After he made the U-turn, and came up behind the male, he was holding the handle bars of the bicycle along with the handgun.

Deputy Campbell said it was early summer; therefore the lighting conditions allowed him to clearly see the handgun, of which he described as a black frame semiautomatic pistol. He said the distance from where he first saw the handgun was approximately 45-50 feet from a 30 to a 45-degree angle when he passed the male bicyclist on the street.

Based on the male bicyclist's initial actions, Deputy Campbell said he believed a robbery and/or burglary may have just occurred due to the area being surrounded by both businesses and residential homes alike, coupled with the male holding a handgun, and the male's response after making eye contact with him was to continue fleeing from them. Deputy Campbell stated his perception was that the male did not intend to stop for them and/or be caught by deputy personnel.

Deputy Campbell stated he believed the male bicyclist noticed their police presence as he looked backward toward their approach then accelerated away from them when he stood up on the pedals of the bicycle.

Deputy Campbell estimated the time from his initial observation of the male to the time of the shooting was about 15-20 seconds.

Deputy Campbell said there were no other options in regards to less-lethal weapons' use due to the speed at which the male suspect engaged them as it immediately went to deadly force.
